“Cretaceous Ecosystems and Their Responses to Paleoenvironmental Changes in Asia and the Western Pacific”

October 22–28, 2017, Jeju Island, Korea

Second Circular

INVITATION & AIMS

We cordially invite you to participate in the Fifth International Symposium of IGCP608, which will be held from October 22–28, 2017, in International Convention Center (ICC), Jeju Island, Korea.

The mechanisms underlying the evolution of the Asia-Pacific Cretaceous ecosystems are far from being fully understood. The IGCP608 project is aimed to reconstruct the Cretaceous ecosystems and the history of their responses to paleoenvironmental changes in Asia and the Western Pacific. The Symposium will serve as a platform for participants to share their views on the paleoenvironmental changes impacts both on terrestrial and marine ecosystems. The scientific programme will cover a wide range of topics including paleoclimate, paleogeography, paleontology, stratigraphy, tectonics, and petroleum geology.

The symposium is jointly held with the Memorial Symposium of 70th Anniversary of the Geological Society of Korea.

The 5th International Symposium of the IGCP608 in Korea will provide an opportunity for discussion of the latest advances in studies of Asia-Pacific Cretaceous ecosystems. In addition to scientific sessions, the pre-symposium field excursion will be organized in the western and southern coasts to examine the non-marine Cretaceous Gyukpo Basin and Gyeongsang Basin yielding many dinosaur footprints and other fossils.
